Wendy Anderson is a business attorney, offering knowledgeable counsel regarding employment law matters, independent contractors, business transactions, and contracts and agreements. She has been in private practice as a solo attorney since 2015.

Wendy received her B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania. She earned her J.D. from Arizona Summit Law School, graduating summa cum laude and as Valedictorian of the December 2014 graduating class. Her article “A Good Death: Increasing the Adoption and Effectiveness of Advance Directives in Arizona” was published in the Arizona Summit Law Review 10th Anniversary Edition, Spring 2015.

Prior to law school, Wendy gained over 20 years’ experience as a marketing and advertising executive at both public and private corporations in Arizona and at advertising agencies in Chicago. With this corporate and legal background, Wendy brings broad understanding and knowledge as a business counselor to her law practice.
